

Copper Canyon

Feb 14, 2027 to Feb 24, 2027

Discover one of North America's most extraordinary natural wonders on our unforgettable journey to Mexico's Copper Canyon. Beginning and ending in Phoenix, this all-inclusive adventure (with the exception of first and last night meals) showcases a region that is vast, rugged, and full of dramatic contrasts—offering a travel experience unlike any other.

Towering mountain peaks rise more than 8,000 feet above sea level and may be dusted with snow in winter, while deep below, the canyon floor enjoys a warm, tropical climate. This ever-changing landscape creates a stunning backdrop throughout the journey.

Copper Canyon is also home to the Tarahumara people, whose enduring traditions and deep connection to the land add a rich cultural dimension to this breathtaking destination. Their story is woven into the landscape, offering a meaningful glimpse into one of Mexico's most fascinating Indigenous cultures.

A true highlight of the tour is an unforgettable rail adventure aboard one of the most spectacular train routes in the world. This engineering marvel, nearly a century in the making, winds through towering mountains, across dramatic bridges, and past sweeping canyon vistas that will leave you in awe at every turn.

Join us on this incredible journey where natural beauty, rich culture, and unforgettable experiences come together in one truly unique destination.
